AT WRIGHTS' OLD CLOTHING STORE

HODGE TO PAY $30 FOR HIS RELEASE

Arthur Driscoll was arraigned before Judge James A. Howell this morning for willful neglect to provide the necessities of life for a minor child and was given until next Monday morning to plead. The young man stated that he desired the services of an attorney and the court advised him that he would have plenty of time before pleading to make arrangements for counsel.

On motion of Attorney Arthur Pratt, A. V. Hodge charged in Morgan county with larceny, was fined $30. The attorney could not say as to what particular charge the man would be required to enter a plea of guilty, but that there had been an agreement with the district attorney that a fine of $30, which would cover the costs in the case, would be acceptable. Mr. Pratt explained that the goods "borrowed without permission of the owner" had been returned and that they were in as good condition as when the borrowing took place. The alleged theft took place in Morgan county but the defendant was brought to the Weber county jail for incarceration.

August Bodh, charged with assault with intent to commit murder and also assault with intent to do great bodily harm, was arraigned and his attorney, George Halverson, asked for the statutory time in which to plead, the attorney stating further that he expected to file a motion in the case in the meantime. The request was granted and the young man will be arraigned again at some future date.

Bodh is alleged to have shot Deputy Sheriff J. L. Hobson near Twenty-seventh street and Washington avenue, July 26, he also having been wounded in an exchange of shots with the officer.

ty jail. Both the officer and the prisoner have recovered completely from the gunshot wounds. The officer was shot through the fleshy part of the thigh and Bodh was shot in the left arm, the ball ranging from a point a few inches below the elbow and emerging through the fleshy part of the arm a few inches above the elbow. No bones were broken in either instance.

CLOUDBURSTS WASH AWAY TRACKS

Within a few hours after a cloudburst had occurred at Castle Rock on the Union Pacific line at 3:20 o'clock yesterday afternoon, a terrific cloudburst occurred at Thibide, between Sparks and Hazen, on the Southern Pacific. While the wash-out on the Union Pacific delayed trains but 35 minutes, all Southern Pacific trains are 12 hours late.

According to information received in the local Southern Pacific office, the first train was able to pass over the repaired track at 1 o'clock this afternoon.

Immediately upon learning of the trouble at Castle Rock, Assistant Superintendent G. O. Brophy left to supervise the work of repairing the track. Although the tracks had been flooded by a stream of water to the depth of two feet or more, the good condition of the roadbed prevented serious trouble. Train No. 5, which was tied up, was able to move over the repaired stretch within 35 minutes after the flood and arrived in Ogden after 25 minutes late.

The trouble in Nevada is much more serious, as 10,000 feet of roadbed is damaged. All available men from the towns in the vicinity have been working and will continue until the track is in its original shape.

cific was likewise injured by a cloudburst. According to Assistant Superintendent H. L. Bell, the track at Thibide was washed out for 10,000 feet, with huge boulders, some weighing ten tons, and gravel covering the right of way.

RELICS OF THE CIRCUS ARE IN COURT

With 25 unfortunates occupying all the bench room of the police court, standing in corners and sitting on the floor, Judge W. H. Reeder this morning had one of the busiest sessions of his career and turned the court into an employment agency.

Unless the circumstances were of a serious nature, the majority of the prisoners were given an opportunity to answer an advertisement to the effect that the Phoenix Construction company wanted 200 white men to go to work erecting towers for the Utah Power & Light company between Grace, Idaho, and Salt Lake and were shipping laborers to Brigham.

The eight alleged vagrants arrested at the circus grounds Saturday morning, were the first to arise in answer to the call of the clerk. All pleaded not guilty and testified that they were either looking for jobs with the circus, had just procured jobs or had just been refused jobs. All were found guilty but were given an opportunity of getting to Brigham to work on the construction company's pay roll.

One of the number, Ernest Zeight, 18 years old, said he was stranded in Denver where he arrived with the Buffalo Bill's show. He is the first of the large number of stranded employees to reach the city.

When the double quartette was dismissed, the remaining prisoners all had a great desire to go to work for the same people and a number were given that opportunity.

Abe Tracy, the old man who has been roaming the streets for the last ten days, was retained to rest up a bit. He had no shirt and his shoes were about gone, while the coat he wore was several sizes too small, the sleeves reaching his elbows and the whole article too tight to be buttoned. M. Hopkins, charged with fighting, secured five days, and William Lopez, who called the town of Garland, Gall, John Murphy and J. Read were given five days each.

SEVEN EXTRA DEPUTIES AT WORK

County Clerk Samuel G. Dye has seven extra deputies engaged certifying the individual accounts of taxpayers of the county for the information of the county treasurer, who, in turn, will notify the property owners of their indebtedness to the county, city and state.

While it has never been definitely determined just how many individual accounts there are to be considered, it is estimated by Mr. Dye that there are approximately 20,000. Each account has to be considered and the amount of the tax, under the valuation and rate recently made by the assessors, and the county board of commissioners, stated accurately to the taxpayer. The county clerk says it is no small job and that it requires no little time to accomplish. The entire work will not be completed much before the end of the present month.
